

I like the convenience of XM traffic and weather radio. When I travel the country there is nothing better than knowing what channel I can get the information I need on traffic or weather. If I have to use standard AM or FM, I spend too much time searching the dial when I should be watching the road in an unfamiliar area. Even road signs that tell weather and traffic info frequencies are not as convenient as XM radio.